

River The Rescuer

This enchanting children's fairy tale is a magical fantasy with valuable life lessons, so remember, it's all just pretend and enjoy the journey with parental guidance. The resemblance in names and characters is purely coincidental.

Once upon a time,
there was a boy named Timmy who loved to play by the river with his friends.

One sunny day,
while they were
playing near the water, Timmy's
friend, Tommo,
accidentally fell in!

Timmy was scared,
but he remembered
what his parents
had told him about water safety.

A vibrant, cartoon-style illustration of a young boy with brown hair and large blue eyes running towards the viewer. He is wearing a blue t-shirt and dark shorts, with a green leaf on his cheek and a look of panic or urgency. In the background, a man in a light blue shirt, a woman in a purple jacket, and another child in a striped shirt are running away from a house with a brown roof. The scene is set in a lush garden with green foliage and a blue sky with white clouds. A semi-transparent green box on the left contains text.

He quickly ran to some nearby
adults and
shouted for help.

Two kind adults heard Timmy's cries and rushed to the river.
They jumped in and pulled Tommo out of the water, keeping him safe.

Timmy felt relieved and happy that his friend was okay.

But he also learned an important lesson:
it's always important to be careful near water and to ask for help from grown-ups if someone is in trouble.

Timmy thanked the adults for saving Tommo, and they all went home feeling grateful and safe.
